

Student's Book

Page 103

Ex. 5

1. We use less with uncountable nouns and fewer with plural countable nouns.
2. Yes, we can replace so with as with no change in meaning. We can't use so in affirmative sentences.
3. as
4. They emphasise how big (or small) the difference is between things that are being compared.
5. With normal comparatives: a great deal, considerably, significantly, far and more and more
With superlatives: by far and easily
With (not) as/so ... as: nearly

Ex. 6

- |             |          |           |           |
|-------------|----------|-----------|-----------|
| 1. far more | 2. as    | 3. as     | 4. better |
| 5. fitter   | 6. fewer | 7. darker | 8. easily |

Ex. 7

Your own answers

Page 104

Ex. 1a

- |       |         |        |         |                          |
|-------|---------|--------|---------|--------------------------|
| 1. up | 2. lift | 3. air | 4. moon | 5. world, cloud, seventh |
|-------|---------|--------|---------|--------------------------|

Ex. 1b

- |        |           |           |               |
|--------|-----------|-----------|---------------|
| 1. lit | 2. bright | 3. tunnel | 4. brightened |
|--------|-----------|-----------|---------------|

Ex. 1c

- Being low or falling: 3, 4, 6, 7

- Darkness or dark colours: 1, 2, 5